Session on "How to plan for start-up? Legal & Ethical Steps"

The session focused on Business Start-up and Entrepreneurship. The intention or the objective of the session was to help the students to plan a start-up of their interest. Various aspects of start-ups were discussed in the program including the idea, mission and legal methods. Guest emphasized that more than earning for ourselves, start-ups should be quite innovative that would help the lives of ordinary people.

The start-up has created a total of 1.6 to 1.7 Lakh new jobs and over 61,400 start-ups have been recognised by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIT) with 14,000 recognised during fiscal 2022. The speaker also discussed the reasons of start-ups failure and stages of start-up. He discussed in detail about the important legal compliances; types of business entity and their legal status, member liability, number of members required, transferability, taxation, annual statutory meetings and filings etc.; Corporation documents; Business Licenses; Taxation and Accounting; Company Law based Compliances; Compliances under Labour Laws and IPR; Contractual Obligations. He said that the start-ups may require various licenses, permissions or permits to execute their ideas and lack of legal knowledge the start-up may end up paying penalties and may even end up being unethical or illegal and suggested to put due diligence to GST Registration, Industry based licenses, Udyog Adhaar and any other Legal Documentation. He further discussed about the ethical compliances for start-ups. He described the advertisement and marketing play a critical role in growth of start-ups and thorough bidding of laws regarding advertisement prevents the startups not only to avoid penalty but also to be ethical, especially, Infrastructure related Zonal Laws, Data Protection and Privacy, IPR. He said that start-ups should never ignore the ethics while earning profits. The start-ups are responsible for their duties towards customer, employees, environment, start-ups and community. The start-ups should have no tolerance towards use of deceptive and inappropriate remarks in their marketing and advertising effort.

Workshop on Prototype / Process design and Development Prototyping

The workshop's objective is to gain insights in a design thinking process to carry out some form of prototyping. This involves producing an early, inexpensive, and scaled down version of the production order to reveal any problems with the current design. Prototyping offers designers the opportunity to bring their ideas to test the practicability of the current design, and to potentially investigate how a sample of users think and feel about a product. After completion of the workshop, participants are able to acquire more knowledge on prototyping and to find the market-fit product. The objective of the workshop was to translate the outcome of academic research activities to product / process development for the benefit of society. Mrs. B.Narmada spoke on the concept of prototype development from academic research. A hands-on session on prototype creation was also held.
